HOUND LODGE, GOODWOOD

"You should feel you are in entirely a different world. It should take your breath away gently"

This client quote summarises the initial brief and ambition of the Hound Lodge project which saw the conversion of the late 19th century Hound Lodge building into high quality accommodation.

Most recently used as a club house for Goodwood golf course, Hound Lodge had been empty and disused since this function was relocated to the refurbished 18th century Kennels building by James Wyatt across the main Chichester road.

Although Hound Lodge is not listed in its own rights, it forms part of a collection of important buildings in an area the Goodwood Estate are seeking to revive.
