

South Downs Forestry Partnership Project

Are you a local business or contractor that works within woodland?

Do you use timber or manufacture local wood products?

Would your business benefit from access to new sources of woodland or timber?

The South Downs National Park is compiling a database of local contractors, services and enterprises to share with woodland owners. If you would like to feature your business on this database or to find out more, contact the Forestry and Woodland Development Officer:

About the project

The South Downs Forestry Partnership project has been established to bring more woodlands within the National Park into active management.

This is a collective landscape-scale approach in partnership with the Forestry Commission, Woodland Trust, Wildlife Trusts and Local Authorities. It aims to encourage networking for environmental, social and economic gains, to respond to emerging markets for woodfuel and to champion local timber in the South Downs National Park.

Reasons to get involved

- Free advertisement for your business direct to local woodland owners
- Potential introduction to new customers
- Potential access to new sources of local timber
- Networking opportunities with other local woodland enterprises
